I think Mr Parkinson is probably correct in saying that he was allowed some years ago to dispose of certain portions of the furniture, and such interest as he would otherwise have in the same.

17th January, 1911.

Dear Sir,

re George William Parkinson, of "Glenartney", principal of Herschell Road, Walmer, formerly a Surgeon Dentist, now of no occupation.

Your letter of the 6th instant has been laid before me on my return to York after an absence of some weeks through illness.

In consequence of Mr Parkinson having been proceeded against by Judgment Summons, I wrote fully to his Solicitors, Messrs Emerson & Co. of Deal, as to what I knew of the ways and means of his household. I think I cannot do better than send you herewith a copy of that letter, which is dated 3rd October, 1910, since it seems to have dealt with questions you might well raise now that Mr Parkinson has filed his Petition. I also send a copy of the statements (3) referred to, to which I have added the Income and Expenditure for last year. The

Yours faithfully,

Lawrence Bezzant

since the end of the year more than exhaust the small balance.

I will, if you desire it, send you the original Bill of Sale, but perhaps the enclosed copy (which you can return at your convenience) will answer your purpose.

I think Mr Parkinson is probably correct in saying that he was allowed some years ago to dispose of certain portions of the furniture, and such interest as he would otherwise have in the remaining furniture is, I think, undoubtedly covered by the Bill of Sale, no portion of the principal or interest having been paid. At the time the Bill of Sale was taken by my brother and myself it was not clear to me to whom many of the articles then in the house belonged, and the Bill of Sale was taken for what it was worth, but certainly without any idea on my part or my brother's of overriding Mrs Parkinson's rights.

I send you copies of the two Post Nuptial Settlements and conveyance (3). I have not got the originals, which during his life were kept by the Revd. E. W. I. Davies, Mrs Parkinson's Father, but his Solicitors assure me that the copies, which have been in my possession for a number of years, are true copies of the drafts from which the originals were engrossed.

I also send a copy of the statements (2) referred to, to which I have added the known and hypotheticals for last year. The

Yours faithfully,

A. Henry B. Munn
